New Jersey Impact of Declining Revenues on Higher Education From 1991-2016

State Appropriations and Tuition

NOTES: Data adjusted for inflation using the Higher Education Cost Adjustment (HECA). Full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment equates student credit hours to full-time, academic year students, but excludes medical students. Educational appropriations are a measure of state and local support available for public higher education operating expenses including ARRA funds, and exclude appropriations for independent institutions, financial aid for students attending independent institutions, research, hospitals, and medical education. Net tuition revenue is calculated by taking the gross amount of tuition and fees, less state and institutional financial aid, tuition waivers or discounts, and medical student tuition and fees. Net tuition revenue used for capital debt service is included in the net tuition revenue figures above.

New Jersey's financial problems continue to be represented in its increasing lack of support for higher education. In 1991, New Jersey provided 73.4% ($11,663) of the cost of education, but has decreased that amount by 40% ($6,982). During that same period, tuition has covered more than 59.5% of tuition and has increased by 142% ($10,263 in 2016 to $4,233 | 1991).
